Objectives: The objective of the course is to foster exchanges on foundational, clinical-ethical and organizational-ethical approaches to dementia care practices.

Format: This course starts from an interdisciplinary perspective (incorporating philosophy, theology, social sciences, medicine, nursing, as well as normative and empirical ethics). During the course, experts will give presentations on various ethical topics in the domain of dementia care.

Participants: The course is of interest to participants from diverse professional backgrounds, such as medicine, nursing, psychology, social work, health care administration, philosophy and theology, and to PhD students undertaking courses of study in these areas. The language of instruction will be English. Deadline for registration and payment: June 14th 2019.

Price: The course fee will be € 820 if you register and pay as a participant before May 15th 2019, € 920 for registration and payment from May 15th 2019 onwards. Reduced registration fee for participants from Eastern Europe and Low Income Countries is €620 before May 15th 2019 and €720 from May 15th 2019 onwards. This fee includes tuition and course materials as well as refreshments, four lunches, and a dinner. Detailed information on registration and payment can be found at our website: www.cbmer.be under Summer Course.
